

Letter of Recommendation

To Whom This May Concern:

This letter is my personal recommendation for Reverend Tony Lorenzen. I first met Tony at a "Standing On the Side Of Leadership" NTAUUS training. He was one of the guest presenters there, giving a sermon. I've found Tony to be very ecumenical, and ever since our first meeting we have worked closely together both within the faith (Unitarian Universalism), and outside of our congregational walls in the greater community as well.

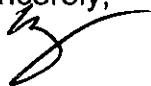

I found that both Tony and I share a deep love and strong commitment to our faith: Tony is ever expanding and enriching his own personal religious depth in many creative ways, attending retreats, seminars and specialized religious and spiritual training. Tony has helped us at Arlington UU with sermons and he had offered to help us to further our efforts there as well. I've seen him present at many other congregations offering sermons and more.

With Tonys' assignment back in the Northeast and even before then, I've seen his flexibility in being able to travel where needed and even in those cases of him traveling, I've seen him offer to help with sermons and such to neighboring congregations on his travels as well. As a minister and a veteran speaker Tony communicates well and in working with Tony I've found him open to suggestions and new ideas and easy to work with.

As a self starter Tony has introduced me to many outside social and community organizations such as, ACT, TACC, community gardens and others as well. He's computer proficient and up on the latest of social media and technology. You can find him on twitter, facebook, he writes his own blog or two and he's also been known to skype as well. I find him to be a good community organizer, and networker and he's known very well for his work wherever he resides.

I highly recommend Tony for employment. He is a team player and would make a great asset to any organization.

Sincerely,

Daniel R. Melendez
